

Nathan Davis has lived in Cobleskill with his wife, Sarah, and their daughter for just over a decade. His two step sons lived with them before growing up and moving away.

He has served on the Library board for the past three years and chairs the Building and Grounds Committee. Having served on each committee at some point, he is currently the Vice President.

Nathan grew up in Laurens, NY before attending Union College in Schenectady. He spent thirteen years as a Patent Agent with a focus on the nanotechnology, chemistry, semiconductor, and pharmaceutical industries. After living in Schenectady, he was looking for a community that would be good for raising children and feel more like home. After moving to Cobleskill, he wanted to stop working in Albany and missing out on all that the community has to offer, so he went into business for himself. He has since taken over ownership of a storied 175 year old brand which has resided in New York State for its entire history.

Nathan and his family have been huge fans of The Community Library. He first started donating to raffles, and after two years of his daughter loving the Battle of the Books and being very appreciative of how much the library does for students, he decided that he would like to be more involved and give back to the library that holds the community together.

Nathan is the past Master of the Cobleskill Masonic Lodge, a past member of the board of the Polish Community Center, and Vice President of the United Pipe Clubs of America. He is currently serving on the Ethics Committee for the Village of Cobleskill.
